In Canada such a thing is a possibility because our Parliament, as I understand, 90th day, October 24, 1906. is supreme, but in the United States even Congress is not supreme in a thing like that; -ren Congress is bound to recognize existing rights. Q.--And compensate for them? A.--No, it cannot, as I understand it-- excuse me for arguing with such a lawyer as Mr. Shepley-- but I understand that the law as it is, that any law that would do away with an ex isting right or break down an existing contract except with the entire concurrence of those people would be unconstitutional and could not be enforced. Q.--You know that in the United States there is the right of what is called Eminent Domain? A.--That is a right inherent in th- State I understand, but this other right is limited by the constitution of...
